Abstract: Peirce's Mature Architectonic, or classification of the sciences, divides philosophy into three primary disciplines. They are phaneroscopy (Peirce's later name for the science of phenomenology<sup>1</sup>), normative science, and metaphysics. Both normative science and metaphysics have sub-disciplines. Normative science subdivides into aesthetics (or, as Peirce spells it, esthetics), ethics, and logic. Metaphysics subdivides into general ontology, psychical metaphysics, and physical metaphysics.<sup>2</sup> However, Peirce never identifies sub-disciplines for phaneroscopy. Why is this?
