

Record in the Commens Bibliography. Retrieved from <http://www.commens.org/bibliography/manuscript/peirce-charles-s-nd-reasoning-and-instinct-r-ms-r-831>,
28.05.2026.

---

Type: Manuscript

Author: Peirce, Charles Sanders

Title: Reasoning and Instinct [R]

Manuscript Id: MS [R] 831

Year: nd

Year: nd

Abstract / From the Robin Catalogue:

Description: A. MS., n.p., n.d., pp. 2-29, incomplete.

The fine gradations between subconscious or instinctive mind and conscious, controlled reason. Logical machines are not strictly reasoning machines because they lack the ability of self-criticism and the ability to correct defects which may crop up. Three kinds of reasoning: inductive, deductive, hypothetical. Quasi-inferences.

Language: English