Term: Complete Argument
Quote: …a leading principle, which contains no fact not implied or observable in the premisses, is termed a logical principle, and the argument it governs is termed a complete, in contradistinction to an incomplete, argument, or enthymeme.
References: W 4:167; CP 3.166
Date of Quote: 1880
URL: http://www.commens.org/dictionary/entry/quote-algebra-logic-8