'Firstness' (pub. 25.11.14-18:27). Quote in M. Bergman & S. Paavola (Eds.), The Commens Dictionary: Peirce's Terms in His Own Words. New Edition. Retrieved from http://www.commens.org/dictionary/entry/quote-csps-lowell-lectures-1903-2nd-draught-3rd-lecture-4.

| Term:Quote: | FirstnessThree kinds of elements can be discerned in whatever comes before the mind.The first is the element of Quality, such, for example, as Red; and including allthe positive suchness of the idea in itself, as mere ideal suchness. It is thatwhich is such as it is, positively and quite irrespective of anything else. I callthis element the element of Firstness. Besides its direct presence we attributeto things out of us natures of their own irrespective of actual reactions. |
