Proposition may be defined as a symbol which definitely and separately shows all its objects, called its subjects, but not its interpretant.