Term: Deduction
Quote: Deduction is that kind of inference in which the fact expressed in the conclusion is inferred from the facts expressed in the premisses, regardless of the manner in which these facts have come to the reasoner’s notice. Deduction is either necessary or probable.
References: MS [R] S27:1
Date of Quote: 1903
URL: http://www.commens.org/dictionary/entry/quote-graphs-little-account-r