Term: Continuum
Quote: All the arguments of Zeno depend on supposing that a continuum has ultimate parts. But a continuum is precisely that, every part of which has parts, in the same sense.
References: W 2:256; CP 5.335
Date of Quote: 1869
URL: http://www.commens.org/dictionary/entry/quote-grounds-validity-laws-logic-further-consequences-four-incapacities