By a copy, I mean a representation whose agreement with its object depends merely upon a sameness of predicates.

References: W 1:257

Date of Quote: 1865