Term: Real
Quote: That which is such that something true about it is either true independently of the thought of any definite mind or minds or is at least true independently of what any person or any definite individual group of persons think about that truth, is real.
References: SS 117
Date of Quote: 1909
URL: http://www.commens.org/dictionary/entry/quote-letters-lady-welby-15