Term: Truth

Quote: A proposition should be defined as that which professes to be true, or assigns a logical value to itself. The Truth is defined as that logical value which a proposition assigns to itself. Whether or not there really is such value, whether there is any truth is a question, not of definitions, but of fact.

Source: Peirce, C. S. (1896). On the Logic of Quantity. MS [R] 13.

References: MS [R] 13:7

Date of Quote: 1896

URL: http://www.commens.org/dictionary/entry/quote-logic-quantity-7