Term: Habit

Quote: By a habit I mean any modification of a person’s disposition, or tendency, when actuated by certain desires, to respond to perceptual conditions, by conduct of a certain kind, such modification resulting from previous external experiences or from certain previous voluntary action of effort on the part of the same person.

Date of Quote: 1907

References: MS [R] 318:34

Editorial Annotations: From a possibly discarded draft

URL: http://www.commens.org/dictionary/entry/quote-pragmatism-67