Term: Habit
Quote: ...a habit (using the word in such a sense as not to exclude a natural disposition) is nothing but a rule so impressed upon a man's nature that he tends to act according to it, when opposing influences are not too strong.
References: MS [R] 596:21
Date of Quote: 1902-03 [c.]
Editorial Annotations: From a variant page
URL: http://www.commens.org/dictionary/entry/quote-reasons-rules-22