
Term: Habit

Quote: ...a habit (using the word in such a sense as not to exclude a natural disposition) is nothing but a rule so impressed upon a man’s nature that he tends to act according to it, when opposing influences are not too strong.

References: MS [R] 596:21

Date of Quote: 1902-03 [c.]

Editorial Annotations: From a variant page

URL: http://www.commens.org/dictionary(entry)/quote-reasons-rules-22