Term: Line of Identity
Quote: The line of identity is a Graph any replica of which, also called a line of identity, is a heavy line with two ends and without other topical singularity (such as a point of branching or a node), not in contact with any other sign except at its extremities. Otherwise, its shape and length are matters of indifference. All lines of identity are replicas of the same graph.
References: Peirce, 1903, p. 22; CP 4.416
Date of Quote: 1903
URL: http://www.commens.org/dictionary/entry/quote-syllabus-certain-topics-logic-34