...there is a sort of idioscopy which studies those elements of phenomena which are ubiquitous throughout the universe studied, — be this universe the physical or the psychical. It may be called Nomology, the science of the laws of the universe in question.